Lecture meeting: 11:00-11:50am

Course materials: Course notes and access to MyLabsPlus are required.
* Course notes are required and only sold at local bookstores. These include the worksheets we will use for a grade.
* Approximately 75% of assignments will be submitted into MyLabsPlus starting with Homework #1. My Labs Plus access is automatically given to each student in Math 107. This includes a printable e-book.

Attendance: You are expected to attend every lecture and lab session and to arrive on time. Attendance will be taken. No cellphone use during class time.

Exams: There will be 5 exams (4 hourly exams plus a common final). Instructors may use their own discretion as to whether to give a makeup exam. No exam scores will be dropped. There will be one extra credit problem per exam. That is the only extra credit offered in Math 107. Any written work must be transferred to the exam. Problems without supporting work will receive little to no credit.

Homework: Most homework will be submitted into MyLabsPlus. Be sure to pay close attention to the assignment calendar so you won’t miss a closing date. Homework will be accepted late with a 20% late penalty until the day of the exam on which it is covered. After that date, the homework will no longer be available. Keeping track of due dates is YOUR responsibility.

Worksheets: Worksheets are found in the back of your Course Notes. Late worksheets will not be accepted.

Reading Assignments: Reading the textbook, before and after a lecture is one of the keys to success. In MLP you have access to the ebook version of the textbook. The ebook allows you to link to learning aids including videos, study tips, chapter reviews, etc. If you have never used an ebook, you are in for a treat!!

Quizzes: Unlike a homework, a quiz must be completed and SUBMITTED before it is graded. Quizzes are done in lab. They are proctored and no calculators or other resources are allowed.
Calculators: This class has a no calculator policy. Occasionally MLP will ask for a decimal approximation, but that will never be asked on a test. It is highly recommended you do not use a calculator when doing homework, since it will only put you at a disadvantage for exams.

Recent Finals: Go to www.math.siu.edu then click on “Course Information”, “Recent Final Exams”, and “Math 107”.

Incomplete: University policy does not permit any instructor to give an incomplete unless the following circumstances apply:
1. The student has a mitigating reason for not finishing the course.
2. The student’s course grade exceeds the cut – off used to earn a final grade of C (70%).

Grading: Course grades are based on a 100-90(A), 89.99-80(B), 79.99-70(C), 69.99-60(D)…% scale

Instructor reserves the right to modify the syllabus.
Note: Math 107 does not count toward any degree program, but the grade earned in the course is calculated into the overall GPA.

Why is this class important?
The 3 hours of credit (for this course) do not count toward your degree, but may be the 3 most important credits you earn. This course is the prerequisite for Math 108 and other courses that follow. Success in mathematics is based on mastering basic skills. This is your semester for mastery.

Due to unforeseen events it is possible the course syllabus may have to be changed per instructor’s discretion during the semester but, if so, you will be informed as early as possible.
